At the convocation ceremony, each graduate will be photographed onstage receiving his/her certificate, diploma, or degree and the alumni department will send a complimentary photo. Complimentary gifts of Clean Air Tree Kits will also be available from the Alumni department. The trees are a symbol to our graduates to remember their roots at Sault College, and to remember their part in building a healthy future. Forests without Borders and the Canadian Institute of Forestry have partnered in this World Clean Air Forest Initiative (WCAFI) that reads: 'You plant a tree... and we plant a tree... Together we will grow communities!'

Background Mayor Rowswell

John Rowswell was first elected in November 2000 and is presently serving his third term as the Mayor of the City of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

He is a dedicated community leader that has made a commitment to high quality of service in our community. Mayor John has always had a vision for Sault Ste. Marie, from his election platform in early 2000 promoting tourism, green energy, infrastructure, industry, and quality of life.

During John's tenure, our community has accomplished well over $1 billion in new private and public sector development based on his platform vision. Much of this can be attributed to Mayor John's excellent relations and persistent communication with government officials, not only provincially but federally and internationally.

John Rowswell is also a professional engineer specializing in structures, welding and metallurgy. He has constructed many recognizable bridges. John is by nature, a "bridge builder" in every aspect.

When John is not participating in business and politics, he is focused on his family: his wife Donna, four children, seven grandchildren and one more expected grandchild in July.
